

SWING TIMES

A Publication of the San Diego Swing Dance Club

From the President's Corner

Dear San Diego Swing Dance Family,

What an exciting month we have ahead of us! May is a time for celebration, reflection, and renewal at the San Diego Swing Dance Club. This year marks an incredible milestone — our 55th Anniversary!

We are honored to celebrate more than five decades of dance, friendship, and community with you. I warmly invite you to join us on Saturday, May 10th for our 55th Anniversary Dinner Dance (advance ticket purchase required). It promises to be a memorable evening filled with great food, wonderful music, and of course, plenty of dancing. Let's come together to honor our history and create even more memories for the future!

In addition to celebrating our past, we are also looking ahead. On Sunday, May 11th, we will be holding our Annual Election for the new Executive Board. This is your opportunity to shape the direction of our club for the coming year. Your participation is vital — we encourage all members to cast their votes and support the candidates who will help continue the legacy of excellence at SDSDC.

We Need You!

Our club thrives because of the generous spirit and energy of our volunteers. Whether it's helping set up for dances, greeting guests at the door, assisting with special events, or supporting our Board, there are so many ways you can make a difference. Volunteering is a wonderful way to connect deeper with our community, and I encourage you to consider lending a hand. If you're interested, please reach out to any Board member — we would love to welcome you aboard!

Finally, I want to personally thank every one of you for being part of this journey. Our club's heart beats strong because of your passion, your laughter, and your love for this amazing dance we share. Let's make May a month to remember!

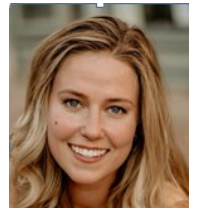

See you on the dance floor,

Vinh Mines

May 4 — Russ Bradchulis and Souraya Lorenz
Country Waltz Workshop

Russ Bradchulis and Souraya Lorenz each started out dancing in their hometown bars around 2010 and began competing in the UCWDC in 2016 with different partners. They met a couple of years later at Paradise Country Dance Festival when Russ famously missed a restart on a line dance during warmups — a story they still enjoy telling today.

Russ and Souraya teamed up to compete together in 2022 and quickly moved up to Division 2 in the UCWDC, where they continue to compete in Couples and Line Dance. Souraya has also partnered with Russ in teaching workshops at various regional and local events.

They will be teaching Country Waltz for us on Sunday, May 4, and it promises to be both informative and entertaining. Come learn from two of the best and take your Country Waltz to the next level!

We Welcome Our New Members:

May 24 — Demetre “Meech” Souliotes Advanced WCS Workshop

Demetre Souliotes' love of dance first manifested itself at a young age in the form of Hip-Hop and Break Dancing. By age 13, he was competing, battling and winning in three different styles of Hip Hop. Demetre found West Coast Swing, a dance that introduced him to the unique joys of partner dancing while still allowing the same freedoms of individual creativity, self-expression and musicality that he enjoys with Hip Hop. Dance, West Coast Swing in particular, quickly became an all-encompassing passion.

Within 2 years on the competition circuit, he was asked to partner with one of the top champion dancers of the day, Beata Howe. Demetre and Beata traveled the USA full time on the WCS professional circuit competing, performing, teaching and then capping the year with a 6th place finish at the US Open Swing Dance Championships.

Following that explosive start as a WCS Dance Professional, Demetre traveled the world competing, performing, teaching, judging and choreographing. He spent 4 years teaching all over Asia and started the WCS community in China.

When he isn't busy traveling, Demetre teaches and hosts classes and dances all over Southern California. In 2014, Demetre and his new partner, Kristen Humphrey, placed top 12 in the Classic Division at the US Open Swing Dance Championships. When asked, Demetre describes his style of WCS as focused on a base of micro connection, clear lead and silent conversation to create the framework in which free body movement and expression can take place — along with a touch of Hip Hop for good measure.

Through the last decade, his style has evolved from the inspiration of his Hip Hop roots, his friends in Lindy Hop, his amazing peers in the WCS community and the natural evolution of this amazing street dance called West Coast Swing.

Meet Mark Siprut A Lifelong Lover of Dance and the Arts

Mark Siprut's lifelong passion for dance began at an early age. Born in Los Angeles and raised in the LA South Bay area, Mark's parents enrolled him in tap classes when he was ten years old. By age twelve, he was also learning social dance and square dancing at a local park, setting the stage for a life filled with rhythm and movement.

During his teenage years in the late 1960s, Mark found himself drawn to the Motown and soul music that dominated local dances in his community.

His love of dance only deepened during college at Humboldt State University, where he discovered international folk dancing, with a special emphasis on Balkan styles. His enthusiasm led him to join several performance groups, and after graduating, he moved to Hawaii, where he picked up the hand drum, the dumbek, and performed Balkan music with a small ensemble.

Mark's commitment to both the arts and education continued to grow. He taught Art and Photography at Iolani High School in Honolulu before earning his MFA in Art at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

While in Santa Barbara, he continued playing Balkan music but, more importantly for his dance journey, he discovered Lindy Hop swing dancing. He took classes from notable instructors Jonathan Bixby and Sylvia Sykes, cementing his lifelong love of dance.

In 1987, Mark moved to San Diego and began teaching multimedia design at San Diego State University (SDSU), where he remains on the faculty today as an Associate Professor. In 1996, he spent a year teaching in Turkey on a prestigious Fulbright grant, further enriching his intercultural experiences.

Upon arriving in San Diego, Mark searched for Lindy Hop dances but instead found a vibrant West Coast Swing community. In the late 1980s and early 1990s, he danced regularly with the San Diego Swing Dance Club downtown, where live bands played every Sunday night. After the dances, he and a group of fellow enthusiasts would often head to the Belly Up Tavern to continue dancing to blues bands.

Today, dancing at the San Diego Swing Dance Club remains one of the highlights of Mark's week. His enduring passion for dance, especially swing, is a vital part of his life and continues to bring him joy and community connection.

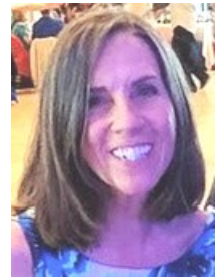

In addition to dancing, Mark is a multimedia artist, designer, and educator. His creative work spans photography, printmaking, digital media, and interactive art. His art explores the intersection of natural landscapes and human-made environments, capturing the tension and beauty of cultural and environmental change. Mark's work has been exhibited locally and internationally, and he is the author of The Adobe Photoshop Handbook v3, published by Random House.

Currently, Mark continues to immerse himself in his innovative art and his spirited dancing.
